Food & Friendship at Bluey's

Helping Congleton get through the cost of living crisis

Great grub and great company - what more could you want?

We're serving up piping hot meals made with care along with friendly chatter and new connections to support those in our community who need help.

What is Food & Friendship?

Food and Friendship aims to nurture community and new relationships by bringing people together over home-cooked meals.

Run entirely by volunteers and donations, these welcoming events provide a space to enjoy tasty food and meaningful conversation.

There's no cost to attend - just come as you are. Singles, couples, young and old - all are welcome to grab a plate, pull up a chair, and become part of the community.

The emphasis is on togetherness and using food as a catalyst for interaction.

Attendees can expect a lively atmosphere, new friendships forming, laughter over shared meals, and an inclusive environment where all feel a sense of belonging.

Bringing people together over food makes an impact that ripples outwards, combating loneliness through the power of community.

Our Food & Friendship meals aim to build community and combat isolation through the power of enjoying a meal together.

- ✓ Delicious home-cooked meals
- ✓ The chance to meet new people
- ✓ Lively conversation in a relaxed setting
- ✓ No cost to attend - this is a cost of living initiative.

Come as you are and leave with full bellies and new friends!
